From the National Board Chair

60 Years of Raising Children and Transforming Lives

Sixty years ago, Fr. William B. Wasson established a home for orphaned, abandoned and vulnerable children in Mexico. From that small beginning has grown the Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos (NPH) network of homes, medical facilities, schools and outreach programs in nine countries in Latin America and the Caribbean. The NPH homes now care for about 3,200 children, or pequeños. While NPH has grown in 60 years, the founding principles remain the same. The children live together with each other and the staff as a true family. They are given unconditional love, security and an education, and are taught personal responsibility and the need to serve others. The results are remarkable. Children who come from backgrounds of almost unimaginable poverty, abuse and neglect emerge as responsible, caring adults. Many receive a university education, and all are taught the skills and values they need to lead productive, rewarding lives. In addition, NPH's medical facilities and community service touch the lives of tens of thousands of others.

NPH USA supports the work of NPH by raising funds in the United States through its six regional offices. In the years I've served on the board, our support of NPH has grown substantially. At the same time we've strengthened our organization, finances and staff and are poised to provide even greater support in 2014 and beyond. Details about our financial performance and support of NPH can be found elsewhere in this report. One notable achievement in 2013 was a change of name. Formerly known as "Friends of the Orphans" we adopted and rolled out our new name "NPH USA." This better expresses who we are and what we do. I am pleased to say that the new name has been well received and, I believe, has contributed to our attracting new supporters. Our sponsorship program continues to grow and provide more people with the opportunity to know and interact with a child on a one-to-one basis.

Thanks to each and every one of our donors and supporters for the contributions they are making to better the lives of the children we are privileged to serve. You may be only one person, but you may mean the world to a child.

Yours truly,

M. Charles Swope

2013 Treasurer's Report

2013 was a tremendous year for NPH USA. Undesignated revenue^A grew 9% compared to 2012, and this comes on the heels of a very successful 2012 when we achieved a 5% growth rate. We were able to accomplish this while keeping our operational costs flat, which explains why we also had a record year in the amount of support provided to NPH. Additionally, we are proud that of the 9 percentage points of growth, 7 were the direct result of donor cultivation at the regional offices, rather than one-time grants or gifts, which often do not represent ongoing, dependable support into the future. Such a strong growth rate from our growing donor base is exciting and promises great opportunities for the future.

NPH USA provided $10.9 million of support to NPH International (NPHI), comprised of $9.3 million in cash and $1.6 million in materials (primarily medical in nature) in 2013. Although the cash provided to NPHI is at an all-time high, the donations of medicines and medical supplies have declined considerably as NPH has become more selective of the medicines it is able to accept. The NPH USA 2013 program ratio of 75% - a standard measure of effectiveness for a non-profit organization - indicates an efficient operation in support of NPHI, also indicated by our four-out-of-four star rating by Charity Navigator. The 7 percentage point decrease in the program ratio from 2012 is due entirely to the aforementioned reduction in donated medicines and supplies and not a reflection of cash provided to NPHI.

During 2013, we achieved an operating surplus of $0.3 million, even after providing additional support to NPHI. This surplus stemmed primarily from our growth in undesignated revenue and helped to drive an increase in our cash reserve of $0.8M. In light of our strong growth and cash position, NPH USA's board committed to increasing the level of support that it provides to NPHI in 2014 by 10% compared to 2013.

NPH USA is committed to maintaining a healthy financial position and balance sheet. We continue to closely monitor financial performance through this challenging economic period and will take actions to ensure that we will always be there for the children of NPH just as we are for our own children. As our staff implements fundraising plans, your continued support remains the absolutely vital key to our success. We hope, and believe, that you will continue to keep the children of NPH uppermost in your hearts and minds.

On behalf of the children of NPH, thank you for your support.

Marnix Guillaume
Treasurer, National Board of Directors

Helping the Community

All of the NPH homes assist people in their communities in a variety of ways. The homes with their own schools offer scholarships to local children and those with clinics provide health care services to thousands of children and adults each year. Other programs include offering vocational education to unemployed adults in the Dominican Republic, providing child daycare to working mothers in Honduras, and assisting children living at a garbage dump in Mexico. In addition, the homes provide disaster relief when needed.

In 2013, a total of 113,387 services were provided through community outreach programs and more than 2,300 people were employed locally.

The Cost of Raising a Child at NPH

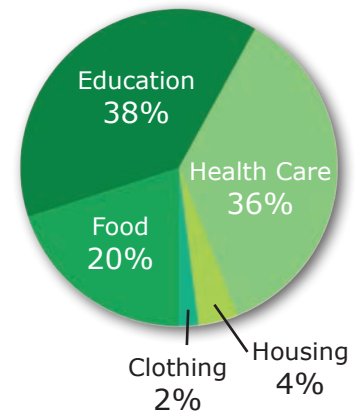

Donations to NPH USA help provide for the basic needs of over 3,200 children at the NPH homes. It costs less than $17 a day, or $6,000 per year on average, to raise a child at our homes.

Our homes strive to be as resourceful and frugal as possible. Following are some of the ways that we are able to keep costs low:

- Supplies and food are bought in bulk and used to maximum efficiency. For example, in Mexico, extra grain is used to feed pigs and tilapia, which the children eat.
- Various vendors provide discounts and donations on everything from seed to medicine. For example, electricity for NPH Dominican Republic is donated by the local power company.
- Our homes produce some of their own food, including fruit and vegetables, and at a few of the homes, poultry, meat and even fish.
- Several of our homes produce furniture, shoes, and other essential items.
- International volunteers and youths doing a year of service fill jobs that would otherwise be paid positions.
- Every child does daily chores, such as cooking, cleaning, and farming to help our family.

International Leadership Institute: Preserving a Legacy

One of the dreams of Fr. William B. Wasson, founder of NPH, was that the pequeños grow up to care for subsequent generations of children in need. To cultivate future leaders, the NPH International Leadership Institute was founded in September 2011. The Institute is designed to build upon the foundation emerging leaders have already received at their NPH homes and through various Family Services workshops.

Participants live with host families in Seattle, Washington, while they study English and attend leadership courses, spiritual retreats and various community events. They speak at a variety of NPH USA fundraisers and perform other service-work. When they return to their home countries, they will be better prepared to share their gifts and talents with the NPH family and the local community.

Child Sponsorship Program: Connecting Supporters and Children

The NPH USA Child Sponsorship Program connects caring people in the U.S. with individual children at the NPH homes. Sponsors (Godparents) generously give ongoing financial support to provide for the children's daily care. Fr. Wasson Legacy Endowment, Inc.

Fr. Wasson Legacy Endowment, Inc. (FWLEI, Federal Tax ID #91-2005679) is a nonprofit, nonsectarian 501(c)(3) organization incorporated in Delaware in 1995. The purpose and mission of FWLEI is to create a substantial and growing financial corpus (the Endowment) that will generate income and help provide long-term financial stability for Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos.

Directors are nominated by NPH USA and elected to represent geographic areas paralleling the regions of the NPH USA offices. The Executive Director of NPH International and CEO of NPH USA are ex-officio voting members of the Board of Directors. The representative of Friends of the Orphans Canada is a non-voting advisory member due to the limitations of Canadian tax laws. The NPH USA offices and NPH Mexico raise funds for the Endowment. Donors receive receipts from NPH USA, which may be used to obtain deductions from U.S. taxes as provided by law. FWLEI may make an annual distribution from earnings to NPH USA for support of the NPH homes.

President's Report

The Father Wasson Legacy Endowment, Inc. (FWLEI or the Endowment) was established in 1995 to provide a repository of long-term financial assets and thus create an on-going source of financial support through NPH USA to Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos (NPH). FWLEI is a separate 501(c)(3) charitable organization.

The Endowment net asset balance has continued to increase, to a total of $13.2 million at yearend 2013 from $11.6 million at yearend 2012. This growth has occurred in large part due to the continuing recovery of the financial markets in 2013, even while FWLEI made distributions to NPH USA for the benefit of the children of NPH in 2013 totaling over $417,000.

A major milestone for FWLEI in 2013 was the consolidation of the Sky Blue Waters Fund into the general FWLEI Endowment Fund. Established in 2004 through the persistent and substantial generosity of a particularly far-sighted donor, the Sky Blue Waters Fund remained restricted from use, at the donor's request, in the Distribution Policy that governs the general Endowment Funds. In September, the Sky Blue Waters Fund achieved its total assets goal and was therefore consolidated into the general Endowment Funds. Henceforth, those additional funds will allow for increased distributions each year for the benefit of the NPH children.

As the Board enters 2014, we wish to acknowledge the contributions of John Zicarelli and Pete Blanco as they conclude their service as full board members due to term limits. Gentlemen, your insights, wit and generosity of service will be missed but we trust that your hearts will remain with NPH and that you will continue to help us support the NPH family. The Board concurrently welcomes several new board members – Mary Guillaume, Nellie Johnson and Charlie Swope – into service with us in stewarding FWLEI.

In conclusion, let me note the on-going efforts to build support for NPH through the staff and supporters of NPH USA. The primary role that FWLEI plays in the NPH USA fundraising platform is to offer a targeted vehicle – one with a strong record of oversight and investment performance – for appropriate planned gifts and estate opportunities in stewarding donor prospects. A complete fundraising operation offers an endowment opportunity for donors to contribute to the longer-term sustenance of the beneficiary organization. FWLEI plays that role for U.S. donors to NPH. If you are interested in learning more or know of someone who should hear about this opportunity, we urge you to call your NPH USA Regional Director or one of our board members. We urge you to GET CLOSER.

Thank you so much for your contributions and support. God bless you and the children of Nuestros Pequeños Hermanos.

2013 Portfolio Management Report

The Father Wasson Legacy Endowment portfolio is managed by Victor Ziminsky III of Morgan Stanley. Vic has provided excellent investment results for the Endowment Fund, outperforming the benchmark in six of the past seven years.

In 2013, the Endowment Fund investment portfolio – whose yearend balance was $12.97 million – achieved a 17.25% return net of fees, nicely above the 16.17% result in our targeted performance benchmark for a portfolio containing 65% world equities and 35% fixed income. Vic mentioned that “Stocks seemed to have leap-frogged the real economy in 2013, outpacing what has been...‘a bumpy, below-par and brittle (triple-B) expansion.’ The 30-plus percent return for the S&P 500 was coupled with a less than torrid estimated two percent rise in United States gross domestic product.”

At yearend 2013, equities represented approximately 77% of the portfolio (somewhat above the 65% benchmark) with two percent in an alternative asset (a gold exchange traded fund). Fixed income and cash comprised the remaining 21%, with fixed income investments rated “AA” and above.

The Board expresses its appreciation to Vic and his team for continuing good performance and to the Investment Committee for their oversight.
