- Rafael Arce, NPH Peru's National Director, is an Hermano Mayor ("Older Brother"), who was raised at NPH Honduras.
- In 2024, the quasi-family methodology was implemented. Children were transitioned from a traditional institutional model to one that mirrors family dynamics. The focus is on the holistic development, emphasizing emotional, social, educational, and physical well-being.
- Young adults entering higher education or vocational training live in a rented house called Buen Pastor. This initiative facilitates the transition to independent living by providing them with essential life skills and autonomy.
- The farm produces organic vegetables, such as onions, carrots, lettuce, cucumber, passion fruit and chili peppers.
- The school year begins in mid-March. The children attend local schools. Many had never been to school prior to joining NPH.
- The home's vocational workshop provides the opportunity for youth to learn a valuable trade, as well as provide bread for the home.
- The NPH OneFamily Program prepares children and families for reintegration through a comprehensive, child-centered process in accordance with local laws. Follow-up support focused on the child's well-being also is provided.
- The Family Community Center focuses on educational opportunities, economic empowerment, and preventive health care.
